THE STORY OF BENJAMIN AND ANNABEL MANIFOLD

AND

THEIR ENVIRONMENTS AND DESCENDANTS

BY

J. B. Manifold

After thirty years of intermittent study of the Payne, Cowgill and Manifold families the author now calls it "finis" and goes to press. Because of the fact that he alone knows the complicated history and genealogy of the related families and cannot impart this knowledge to another he attempts to put it in form in his own particular and unprecedented way. This is composed principally for family consumption and the author believes those interested will bear with him in the mistakes and omissions which are bound to appear in so great an attempt.

The only previous record of Manifolds is that of John and William who came to America from different ports and in different ports in 1635. Whether either of these was the ancestor of Benjamin who married Annabel Danger in St Paul's church in Chester, Pa., Nov. 10, 1730 and who in turn is the ancestor of most Manifold and related families in the United States today is unknown. The author suspects that the William Manifold who landed in Virginia, which then embraced Pennsylvania, was the ancestor of this Benjamin, but unable to bridge the gap, cannot prove it.

The name "Manifold" we are told originated because of their being dwellers along the Manifold River in Staffordshire, England. However Benjamin's early descendants had more characteristics of the Scotch-Irish Irish who were people of Scotch descent living in northern Ireland. The fact that they lived in Scotch-Irish communities and early attended the Presbyterian church indicates Benjamin may have been of that stock. Some have claimed Benjamin was a Quaker, but the fact that he was married in the Episcopal church, that his four sons were connected with the Revolutionary War and that his children, when marrying into the Payne and Cowgill families, caused their spouses to be promptly disowned by the Quaker church proves conclusively to the contrary. The intermarriage of these families in defiance of Quaker church rules was very persistent, five of Benjamin's six marriageable children so doing. This is why most descendants of Benjamin and Annabel are also descendants of Henry Cowgill and Josiah Payne and prompts the author to call this a Payne-Cowgill-Manifold history-genealogy.

The puzzling relationships of the Payne, Cowgill and Manifold families is shown on a following page. On other following pages are named Benjamin and Annabel's 7 children, 57 grandchildren and about 204 known great grandchildren and about 420 great great grandchildren. Following names of the great great grandchildren is a number corresponding to a number farther on carrying out later descendants where known totaling about 4,000. Thus by use of the key number a descendant is able to vision his or her place in the whole family and trace descent back to Benjamin and Annabel, or to other ancestors.

The data is authentic, having been taken from reliable records. Where day and month is given, it means just that. Where only the year is given it means the record (as in early census records) affords only that. The author is sorry so many dates are missing and so many descendants unaccounted for, but this could not be helped. The general outline is here and many can, if they desire tie onto the framework. A blank page is left at the end to permit this. An additional blank page is left for one to record his or her descent through other ancestors. The author encourages this.

The author here wishes to give credit to those who have helped in obtaining data. Many have helped, others hindered through failure to give data requested. Most helpful in supplying data have been Mrs. Ida B. Lee of Cleveland, Ohio, B.F. Payne Manifold of Stewartstown, Pa. and Miss Bettie Huffaker of Knox Co., Tenn. Others have helped in lesser degree, for which the author is thankful. Dates of birth beyond the fourth generation have been omitted because of complication. These descendants may add them if they wish.

After the marriage of Benjamin and Annabel as told above, they lived for a time in Chester Co., Pa., perhaps near the Paynes and Cowgills. About 1752 they all moved to the newly formed York Co. where Benjamin obtained land, partly by the squatter system and partly by grant. His lands were in Fawn and Chanoeford Townships near the Maryland line. The descriptions of land at that time were by rocks and trees long since unknown, so the exact location is no longer known. Some interesting facts relative to the title of these lands is given by the son, Joseph, in prints on other pages. Benjamin Manifold obtained a grant of land in York Co., Pa. in 1752. Josiah Payne obtained on from the heirs of William Penn in 1730.

In the early part of 1754 Benjamin Manifold died leaving his wife, Annabel, and six children, William, Joseph, Edward, Elizabeth, Mary, and Benjamin. A seventh child, John, was born after his decease. Of the 57 grandchildren he never saw one, for none of his children were married at the time of his death. He was buried on the farm, as were others of the family later, at a location today unknown. Annabel survived her husband a number of years, the exact number unknown.

It is interesting to know the property belonging to Benjamin and Annabel at Benjamin's death. In a highbox, perhaps unopened for many years, in the court house in York Co., Pa. the author found the following:

As proof of statements already made, particularly the names of the children of Benjamin and Annabel Manifold, the author submits the following gleaned from the musty records of York Co., Pa. in book A at page 178 of the orders of the orphans court:

At an orphan's court held at York for the County of York the twentysixth day of May in the first year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord, George the third, by the grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland, king defender of the faith, in ye anno domini, 1761 before Thomas Ammor, John Adlum and Martin Eyckelberger, esquires in ye reigh etc, came into court William Manifold, eldest son and heir at law of Benjamin Manifold late of Fawn Township in the county of York, yeoman deceased, who died intestate etc and produced the valuation of the lands of the deceased father, which follows in the words to wit: "We the subscribers appointed by an orphan's court held at York for the said county the twentyninth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, seven hundred and fiftynine, an inquest to view and value sundry small pieces of land situated in the townships of Fawn and Chanceford nearly contiguous and containing on the whole near three hundred acres whereof Benjamin Manifold late of the township of Fawn in the county, yeoman died possessed of, having met in pursuance of our appointment and having viewed and duly considered of the same premises do find and report to the court that the same will not permit of division among the legal representatives of the said Benjamin Manifold who died intestate without produdice to the whole, and that the said sundry parcels of land with the improvements thereon made as the same now stand are of the value of one hundred and sixty pounds lawful money of Pennsylvania and no more. In testimony whereof we have hereto set our hands and seals this twentyseventh day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixtyone.

Henry Bradley (seal)

William Gommill (seal)

James Smith (seal)

Ebenezer Smith (seal)

And whereupon the court decree and order that the said William Manifold do pay unto Edward Manifold a son of the said intestate the sum of thirteen pounds, six shillings and eight pence in one year from this date and the further sum of four pounds, eight shillings and ten pence half penny in one year from the death of Annabel, relict of the intestate.

And also pay unto Joseph Manifold, another son of the intestate the sum of thirteen pounds, six shillings and eight pence in two years from this date and the further sum of four pounds, eight shillings and ten pence half penny in one year from the death of Annabel, relict of the intestate.

And also pay unto Mary, a daughter of the the said intestate the sum of thirteen pounds, six shillings and eight pence in three years from this date and the further sum of four pounds, eight shillings and ten pence half penny in one year from the death of Annabel, relict of the intestate.

And also pay unto the guardian of Elizabeth, daughter of said intestate the sum of thirteen pounds, six shillings and eight pence in four years from this date and the further sum of four pounds, eight shillings and ten pence half penny in one year from the death of Annabel, relict of the intestate.

And also pay unto the guardian of Benjamin Manifold, another son of the said intestate the sum of thirteen pounds, six shillings and eight pence in five years from this date and the further sum of four pounds, eight shillings and ten pence half penny in one year from the death of Annabel, relict of the intestate

And also pay unto the guardian of John Manifold, another son of the said intestate the sum of thirteen pounds, six shillings and eight pence in six years from this date and the further sum of four pounds, eight shillings and ten pence half penny in one year from the death of Annabel, relict of the intestate

And do pay unto Annabel, relict of said intestate, the sum of three pounds and two shillings yearly during her natural life; and that thereupon the said William Manifold do hold and enjoy the said valued lands in as full and ample a manner as the intestate held the same at the time of his death, agreeable to the directions of the acts of assembly in such case made and provided

This was a very complete and fair way to provide for the heirs of Benjamin Manifold Sr. However it was probably impossible to carry out and according to the writing of his son, Joseph, never was. From the list of money taken in during the years following the decree one can see how impossible it was. William died unmarried prior to 1767 and Edward, next eldest, succeeded to his rights and obligations. The writing by Joseph makes many things clear. The death of Annabel is shrouded in mystery.

Having cleared the membership of Benjamin and Annabel's family, each child will be taken up and their descendants enumerated so far as the author has been able to learn them. Proofs of the third generation in the form of wills and other data will be produced. First, however, is shown a chart depicting the intermarriage of the Payne, Cowgill and Manifold early families.

Will of Edward E. Manifold (Will Book O, page 394) York County Pa. records.

In the name of God, Amen. I Edward Manifold of Fawn Township, York County, and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, being aged and weak of body but of sound mind, memory and understanding, blessed be God for the same, and considering the uncertainty of this transitory life, do make and publish this my last will and testament, as follows, to wit:

I bequeath and commend my immortal soul into the hands of God, who gave it, and my body to the earth to be buried in a decent and Christian-like manner at the discretion of my executors, hereinafter named and as soon as may be after my decease I order and direct that all my just debts be paid and satisfied out of my personal estate, and the remainder of my personal estate I order and direct to be divided to and among my beloved wife, Lydia, and my two sons, John Manifold and William Manifold, share and share alike. I also give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Lydia the one-third of all and singular the rent, issues and profits arising from all and singular my real or land estate, to be paid to her by the possessor yearly as she shall demand the same and at the rate that she and the possessor shall agree for and during her natural life, and after her decease to revert to the person to whom I have devised the same. I give and bequeath to my son, Henry Manifold, the plantation on which he now lives, for the sum I received with my wife, Lydia, and also the lands surveyed on the application I bought of James Dean or Samuel Crompton, being sixty-three (63) acres, more or less, and the one-half of a survey made or a warrant granted to myself, adjoining the other, all of which I devise to my said son, Henry, and to his heirs and assigns forever, and the other half of the last mentioned survey I order to be sold by my executors for the best price it will bring and the money to be divided between my two sons, John Manifold and William Manifold in equal proportions. And all my other lands in Fawn or Chanceford Township or wherever the same may be I give and devise to my two sons, John and William and their heirs and assigns forever, to be divided between them share and share alike, or as my said sons shall agree, subjecting my two said sons to make payment of the following legacies and bequests: First I give and bequeath to my daughter, Alice, intermarried to John Payne, the sum of one hundred twenty ($120.00) to be paid in three annual payments commencing in one year after my decease, in addition to what she has received. Second I give and bequeath to my daughter, Eleanor, intermarried to D. Thomas Boyd, the sum of four hundred ($400.00) dollars in addition to what she has received. Third I give and bequeath to my daughter, Elizabeth, five hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty four cents ($533.34), her case of drawers and her table. Fourth I give and bequeath to my daughter, Prudence, five hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty-four cents ($533.34), one case of drawers and one table. The money mentioned in all the above legacies to be paid by my sons, John Manifold and William Manifold in three annual equal installments commencing in one year after my decease, in equal proportion, or share and share alike.

And lastly I do constitute my said beloved wife, Lydia and my two sons, John Manifold and William Manifold executors of this my will, revoking all wills by me heretofore made, and declaring this and no other to be my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my seal the tenth day of August, anno domini eighteen hundred ten. Edward E. Manifold (his X mark)

Edward E. Manifold whose will appears above was the second eldest child of Benjamin and Annabel (Danger) Manifold, the eldest being William who died unmarried. Edward was born about 1734. He married Lydia, daughter of Henry and Alice (Payne) Cowgill Feb. 20, 1765. They lived in York Co., Pa. He is listed as a York Co. militia man in the American Revolution in Pennsylvania Archives, 6th series, pages 619 and 621 as were also his three younger brothers, Joseph, Benjamin Jr. and John. Edward died about 1821. His descendants are listed below and following:

This concludes the material relative to Edward Manifold. Taken up next is that relative to Joseph, next eldest child of Benjamin and Annabel Manifold. First, his will:

Will of Joseph Manifold, book P, York C. Pa. records

In the name of God, amen, I Joseph Manifold of Hopewell township, York county and commonwealth of Pennsylvania, sick and low of body but of sound disposing mind and memory, blessed be God for all his mercies, calling to mind the mortality of my body, knowing it is appointed for all to die, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, that is to say: Principally and first of all I give and recommend my soul into the hand of Almighty God who gave it, and my body I recommend to the earth to be buried in christian-like manner at the discretion of my executors and, as touching my worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to give me in this life, I give devise and dispose of the same in Manner and Manner following:

I give and bequeath to my well-beloved wife, Eleanor Manifold, the one third of the rents and profits of my real estate for her natural life. I also bequeath to my sons, Joseph, Benjamin and Henry Manifold, the whole of my landed estate in Hopewell township; Benjamin's part to be struck off by itself containing one hundred twenty acres including the tan yard, house and all the utensils thereunto belonging. Releases to be given agreeable to each one's quantity or share and to follow in description to each of their heirs with the appurtenances and improvements on just principles. I give and bequeath to my son, William four hundred and twenty-two pounds to be paid to him in the space of one year from my demise by my above mentioned sons, each one to share in equal proportion to the land he holds to complete the sum. I give and bequeath to my son, John, my landed property situated in Fawn township, but is not to have power to sell or dispose of the same without the approbation and consent of his other brothers; but if he should die a minor, the estate is to be equally divided betwixt his brothers and sisters. I give and bequeath to my daughters, Viz. Mary Wallace, and Lydia Collins, and Eleanor, Martha and Annabel Manifold the sum of two hundred pounds each to be paid from out of my real and personal estate to be paid by my sons, Joseph, Benjamin and Henry before mentioned: but the accounts that stand against my two daughters Viz. Mary Wallace and Lydia Collins to be deducted out of their shares, I give and bequeath lastly to my grand daughter, Rachel Vaughn, thirty pounds to be paid to her when she arrives at the age of eighteen years; and I do hereby nominate constitute and appoint my sons, Joseph and Benjamin before mentioned to be the executors of this my last will and testament, disclaiming and disannulling all former wills; ratifying and confirming this to be my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I have here unto set my hand and seal this eighteenth day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one.

Joseph Manifold

Signed and sealed in presence of Alex Downing Benjamin Payne

N.B. The legacy of thirty pounds last mentioned to be paid by Joseph, Benjamin and Henry.

Before enumerating the descendants of Joseph Manifold Manifold it is well to note some relationships and historical items. Edward and Joseph were, as seen from the chart of Josiah Payne's descendants, brothers - in law as well as in fact. Their younger sisters, Mary and Elizabeth were by marriage their aunts and their younger brother, Benjamin, a half-cousin. To determine all the relationships resulting therefrom is beyond the ability of the author. Throughout the family there are many intermarriages and duplication of recording descendants, from which many have two or more family ancestors and because of which some cross references have been made.

In spite of there double relationship, it can be seen from the photostatic copies following that Edward and Joseph did not always see eye to eye. These copies were made from a personal writing by Joseph and handed down through the years. They are reproduced for the historical proof they contain. In them is shown the methods of acquiring land and the surveying of it, the small amount of income of the day, the impossibility of carrying out the decree of distribution of the estate and several other matters of historical interest. Next, the photostats:

Following are shown some Manifold land holdings in York Co., Pa. of an early day. Most of them are of the sons of Joseph as provided in his will. They were laid out from rock to tree, long gone or forgotten and their location is now unknown. The tan-yard is long gone, so that is no help. This photostat is shown as a relic of early-day land holding.

To avoid separating the descendants of Eleanor, next child of Joseph and Eleanor (Cowgill) Manifold the author will use this space to explain some distinguishing names. Edward, Joseph and Benjamin each had a Henry. Edward's Henry and Joseph's Henry were called (Short) and (Long) to distinguish them in conversation. Benjamin's Henry having lived in Tenn. needed no such distinguishing designation. Long Henry and Short Henry were undoubtedly named after their grandfather, Henry Cowgill, while Benjamin's Henry may have been named after Henry Cowgill, who was his great-grandfather, but more likely after his uncle, Henry Payne. The (Frosty) John heretofore mentioned is reported to have received that designation through living in a frosty region. Hereafter will be listed two Joseph Manifolds known as (Big) and (Little) Joe to distinguish them. Some other conflicting names were ear-marked in this manner.

Thus ends the enumeration of descendants of Joseph and Eleanor (Cowgill) Manifold

The next eldest child of Benjamin and Annabel Manifold was Mary. She first married John Payne and after his death married Joseph Cathoart, who spelled his name Kithoart. It was thus spelled in his enlistment in the York Co., Pa. militia during the Revolution and in his will. John Payne was brought up as a quaker. Joseph Cathoart a presbyterian, from northern Ireland.

The descendants of Mary by John Payne will first be enumerated and then those by Joseph Cathoart.

Benjamin Jr., son of Benjamin and Annabel, was born about 1748. He married Mary, daughter of George and Rachel (Cowgill) Payne, in 1777. They lived in Hopewell township, York Co., Pa. until 1796 when they sold their farm to Pat. Purdy and started for Tenn. They probably stopped for the winter at George Paynes' in Berkeley Co., Va. and went on in the Spring of 1797. There they lived until Benjamin was killed by whirling machinery in his grist mill Sept 23, 1820. The wife and children remained there a few years longer when the mother died about 1826 and most of the children moved West. The following quotations tell the story: From the Knoxville Tenn. Journal of Feb. 15, 1951 is taken:

PIONEER'S DESCENDANT RETURNS TO ERECT MARKER AT MILL SITE

J.E. Manifold of Greenacres, Wash. has returned to Knox County to have erected at Stony Point a marker at a historical mill site and trading post operated by his great-great grandfather, Benjamin Manifold Jr. The dedicatory exercises will be held Sunday at 2:30 P.M. The monument and records will be presented to the historical society. Manifold will deliver the dedicatory address and recite interesting historical facts. Benjamin Manifold came to Knox County in 1797 and established a mill and trading post. The cape of his coat was caught in machinery and caused him to receive fatal injuries Sept. 23, 1820. J.E. Manifold is the only descendant by the name of Manifold known to have been in Knox County in 120 years. The boys in the family left here and located in Illinois and Indiana soon after their father's death.

The monument was made and dedicated on that Sunday afternoon. It was made of concrete and faced with a marble slab from a local quarry. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon West furnished the cement, sand and gravel and the author did the work. If ever a work was one of love that was a true example. The slab and lettering was paid for, in part, by contributions from descendants. The author paid the rest.

The address contained considerable history so it is reproduced here:

Ladies and gentlemen, and especially cousins:

You may wonder why I am making this talk. It happened this way. It seemed appropriate for one by the name Manifold to do it, and as I am the only one by the name known to have been in Knox County in the last 120 years it just had to be me. I will not try to make a fine speech. I couldn't if I would't and I wouldn't if I could. I prefer to give the historical background of this occasion. Let us go back a generation or two beyond this Benjamin and Mary for a start. Benjamin Manifold Sr. and Annabel Danger were married in St Paul's Episcopal church in Chester, Pa. Nov. 18, 1730. They lived in Chester Co., Pa. until about 1752 when they moved to York Co., Pa., where Benjamin died in 1754 and Annabel lived several years thereafter. They had seven children; in order William, Edward, Joseph, Mary, Elizabeth, Benjamin and John, Benjamin Jr. being born in 1748. As to Mary's background, Josiah Payne and Martha Shepperd were married about 1715. A son, George was born to them Oct. 21, 1728. This George married Rachel, daughter of Henry Cowgill on Mar. 26, 1752 and to them was born a daughter, Mary, Nov. 6, 1758. In 1777 Benjamin Manifold Jr. and Mary Payne were married and settled in Hopewell Twp., York Co., Pa. where in 1798 they had 400 acres of land and seven children. Apparently Benjamin Jr., unlike his brothers and sisters, was of a roving disposition for in 1796 he sold his well-developed lands and on Sept. 16th of that year loaded his necessary goods and nine children (necessary or not) into his wagon and sought other pastures.

I imagine they spent the winter with Mary's parents in Berkeley Co., Va. and came on to this place the next Spring. When they arrived at this point and I presume had this creek to ford I can imagine Benjamin saying something like this: "Mary, we have had a long, hard journey. Our horses' feet are sore, the children are tired and so are we. Let us stop here. On yonder hill we can build our house out of the way of the flooding French Broad. On the fertile bottom lands we can raise wheat and corn after it's spring waters have receded. On this creek I can build a dam and its waters will turn a wheel and stones to grind the wheat and corn we raise. We will keep articles for sale to the settlers moving West. The place will be a haven of safety and rest for the weary travelers like us."

Mary agreed and Benjamin's dream came true. He did build a house on yonder hillside. He did raise wheat and corn on the fertile French Broad bottoms. How do I know? I have a letter written by him in Jan. 1799 in which he says: "There was a purchase of land from the Indians last Fall and land is cheap. It rates from one dollar to four. I cannot complain of this place as yet. It is good for spring crop, and fall crop hath done well with me as yet."

He did build a mill, grind wheat and corn and keep articles for sale as evidenced by the old mill-book still in existence. The place did become a haven of refuge as evidenced by an account in history that the settlers for miles around gathered at Manifold Station for protection against the Indians.

It was an important stopping-place for the weary traveler. Here he could buy wheat or corn already ground, the salt to season it, and could help himself to all the water he wanted from this creek to mix it into dough. he could even gather wood nearby to bake it into bread, and he was safe lest the Indians see the smoke and come on with the arrow or tomahawk. What more could one want?

This station was operated until Sept. 23, 1820 when Benjamin attending his mill and wearing an overcoat with cape attached, the cape caught in the machinery and he was whirled to his death. He was buried on a nearby hillside and his gravestone is in the base of this monument. After the father's death and that of the mother, most of the children, inheriting the pioneer spirit of their father, emigrated to newer lands. the record follows: George was taxed on 1250 acres in Knox County in 1808. He was overseer of the road from Flint Gap to Sevier County line in 1805. He married Mary Pursley and had moved to Rhone Co., Tenn. in 1820. From there he moved to Hancock Co., Ill. in 1834 and died there in 1836.

William, my great grandfather, married his cousin, Elizabeth Payne, in Washington Co., Tenn., but lived in Knox Co. in 1820 and emigrated to Wayne Co., Ind. soon thereafter.

Elizabeth married John Underwood and remained in Knox and/or Sevier Co., Tenn.

Joseph married Susannah Butler and went to Wayne Co., Ind. Alice married Aaron Fales and they went to Wayne Co., Ind. Hannah married James McCarty and remained in this vicinity. Benjamin III joined Capt. James Thorps' company of Col. Edwin Booth's Regt. of E. Tenn. militia in the war of 1812 and died in the service Feb. 23, 1815. His father administered his estate which consisted of a horse and saddle and some military clothing among which was a high plume worn on the hat. Henry married Rebecca Scott and went to Madison Co. Ind. Mary (Polly) married David Kerr and they went to Wayne Co. Ind. Martha married Thos. H. Bryan and moved away, place unknown. Sarah (Sally) married Thomas Scott and they moved to Madison Co. Ind. Rachel married George Richard. Where they went is unknown. Tradition has it that she was drowned while riding a horse near this place. In all there were 12 children and about 70 grandchildren. Benjamin and Mary Manifold settled here when the stream of westward emigration was at its flood and remained until it began to ebb. They were plain people as this plain monument so truly represents. They were of the "salt of the earth". They were loyal to their country. Benjamin Jr. was a member of the York Co. Pa. militia during the American revolution. Their descendants have fought in every war since and many have made the supreme sacrifice. Certainly it is fitting and proper for us, their descendants to pay this small homage to their memory. Thus, on behalf of the 2,000 or more of these descendants, I dedicate this monument and present it to the East Tennessee Historical Society in the hope they will preserve it so long as the society exists.

Because of lack of space two old tax receipts are stripped along side and an old letter reproduced on the following page without comment. Benjamin had 1,000 acres of land, a grist mill, articles for sale and considerable personal property, so his tax doesn't appear excessive.

Jersey the 25-1899

Dear and Esteemed Sister and Brother
These few lines come to inform you that we are all well at present thanks be to God. Mary goes for all the messengers hoping these few lines will find you all in the same health. I am separated from the family for a time in Cape. I shall soon return to you and if you think to come out from this fall I am not complaining of this place as yet it is good for Spring crop and fall crop both I am well with me as yet George's pain both been out with us and he can tell you when he comes in and I want you to give him twenty dollars to fetch me a complete watch I think to come in good keeping within in about two or three years I long to see you all again remember my kind love to all of our friends and neighbors and beg you not be missing a boat this afternoon it makes me to say about and it beg you will write to us how you all are then from me Benjamin manifest

Benjamin Manifold Jr. died intestate. His son Henry was appointed administrator. The final settlement was made at the July session of Knox Co. Tenn. court in 1824. Of interest is a decree of the court at the April session 1821 which is as follows:

The commissioners appointed to allot and set apart of the estate of Benjamin Manifold, deceased one year's allowance to the widow and family, report an allowance as follows, to wit:

We the undersigned being appointed by the court of Knox Co., after being sworn, have provided to be set apart for the support of Mary Manifold, widow of Benjamin Manifold, dead, and her family for one year, which consists of herself and three children, the following stock of groceries, that is to say lay by two hundred bushels of good corn, twenty bushels of wheat, one thousand one hundredweight of pork, three bushels of potatoes, fifteen dollars worth of coffee and sugar, eight dollars worth of leather for shoes and the whole of the flax and cotton. January 16th 1821

Wm. Cunningham (seal)

B. McNutt (seal)

Also of interest is the record of the sale of the personal property made necessary to settle the estate. This seemed to be largely a matter of form as most of the property was bought by the family and there was probably not much competition. The list is long so only a few sales will be here mentioned.

It is interesting to compare articles and values with those in the inventory of Benjamin Sr.'s estate. Here are a few items, the buyers and the value:

Mary Manifold, eight small hogs	$2.00
Henry Manifold, wagon	110.00
Joseph Manifold, double barrel gun	25.00
Wm. Manifold, stewpot	.27
Sally Manifold, bed and furniture	1.69
Polly Manifold, brush	.50
Patsy Manifold, bed and furniture	1.00
John Underwood, Brown's dictionary of the bible in two volumes	3.51
James McCarty tomahawk	.14
Aaron Bales, pewter dish	.57
George Richard, pr saddle-bags	1.80

All of the children or their spouses are here accounted for except Benjamin III deceased and George, who was in Rhone Co. Tenn. A deed to James McCarty is also on record in the Knox Co. court-house which accounts for all the children.

The descendants of Benjamin Jr. and Mary now follows. It is very extended and has caused the author much effort. He hopes the readers will appreciate the effort.

The will of John Manifold, youngest child of Benjamin and Annabel Manifold, as recorded in Will Book (O) at Page 35, York Co., Pa. records reads as follows:

In the name of God, Amen. I, John Manifold, of Hopewell Township, in County of York, State of Pennsylvania, being weak and sick in body, but of sound mind, memory and understanding, blessed be Almighty God for the same, I having in mind the mortality of the body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make, retain and publish this my last will and testament, viz: Principally and first: I give and recommend my soul into the hands of Almighty God, who gave it, and my body I recommend to the earth to be buried in a decent and Christian-like manner at the direction of my executors, not doubting but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God, and such worldly goods and estate wherewith God hath blessed me in this life, I give, devise and bequeath in the following manner; I will that my just debts and funeral charges be fully paid and satisfied out of my estate by my executors hereinafter named. I will that an inventory of my goods and chattels be taken and made immediately after my decease and public sale of all that my executors shall think proper and beneficial to the estate.

I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Margaret, her bed, bedstead and bedding, the horse she usually rides and her saddle, one-third part of all the dresser, cupboard and kitchen furniture, one cow and three sheep, her choice, and the sum of fifty dollars a year to be paid annually out of my lands during her natural life and which same shall remain a lien upon said lands, and also I will and devise that she shall have full and free privilege of living in my dwelling-house or such part thereof as maybe reasonably convenient for her, not including the owners, and part of the milkhouse, one-third part of the garden, one-half bushel of flax seed sowed yearly on suitable land and put up in the barn, and her cow and sheep kept winter and summer on the plantation while she remains my widow but no longer.

I will and bequeath to my beloved daughters, Anibal, Margaret and Elizabeth, each of them the bed and bedding called theirs, also one hundred dollars each, Anibal's money to be paid one year, Margaret's two years and Elizabeth's three years after my decease.

I will and bequeath to my beloved daughters, Jean and Mary Pain, Agnes Collins, Elinor and Sally, each the sum of one hundred dollars to be paid to them severally when they arrive at full age.

I will and bequeath to my beloved son, William, the horse called his, a new saddle and twenty dollars.

I will and bequeath to my beloved son, Benjamin, the sum of twenty dollars.

I will and bequeath to my four beloved sons, William, Benjamin, Joseph and John, and their heirs or assigns forever, all my lands, tenements and hereditaments, with the appurtenances, together with all my goods and chattels, bills, bonds, notes and accounts whatsoever (excepting articles herein formerly mentioned and bequeathed) to be equally divided among them, their heirs or assigns, share and share alike, after making full payment of all my just debts, funeral expenses, and the legacies above mentioned, the legacies to remain a lien on my lands until paid; and lastly I do here nominate and appoint my son, William, sole executor of this my last will and testament, hereby revoking and disannulling any former will or wills by me made or said to be made and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this sixteenth day of October Anno Domini eighteen hundred eighteen.

John Manifold (seal)

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the above named, John Manifold to be his last will and testament, in the presence of us, who have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses in the presence of the testator

Alex. Wallace
William Smith

Author's note:

This will correctly names the children of John and Margaret (Maffett) Manifold with the exception of James, deceased. The names on his personal record on the next page omit the two last. The two names have been worn off through the years of handling. Church records show that Eleanor was baptized Apr. 24, 1813 and Sarah (Sally) Aug. 20, 1815

John Manifold's wife, Margaret, was a daughter of James Maffet, Captain of the Manifold boys' company in the Revolution, and Margaret, his wife. The name, Margaret, goes right down the line for several generations.

Thus ends the listing of known descendants of Benjamin and Annabel Manifold. Many are unknown by the author. It is impossible to estimate the percentage listed. Perhaps most are unlisted.

It is interesting to see how population increases, and this may be a fair example. In theory Malthus was right, but it is a long time procedure that need worry us for some time. I mean not.

And now the author brings this story to a close. It has been an arduous task, but he considers it a high-light of his life and is content. The mistakes are his and not the publisher's. He has violated most of the rules of rhetoric and geneological principles for which he offers no excuse. He hopes the readers will enjoy it in spite of its defects. He bids you adieu, by submitting a Roll of honor.

If, after reading the foregoing one considers it proper and worth-while, this page may be used to record other lines of ancestry. this would be a nice contribution to hand down the succeeding generations .
